CHINA AND RUSSIA.

SHANGHAI, 4th May, 1893.—A private telegram received in Shanghai from Peking states, according to the N.C. Daily News, that there is a rumour in high official quarters in the Capital that the Emperor intends—in the event of a Russian embassy—a second Liu Ming-chuan, the redoubtable ex-Governor of Worms, to take the chief command of the Imperial armies of the three Eastern Provinces, i.e., Shantung, Lower Manchuria, and Kien and Tsin-tau, on the Amur; and Lin Chin-tang, the "Facultator" and ex-Governor of the N.E. Dominion, to his old post as Commander-in-chief of the armies in Chinese Turkestan.

A private telegram from Hankow states that 6,000 stand of magazine rifles and twelve mountain guns, besides an immense quantity of ammunition, passed through that port, via the Slang river, on the morning of the 29th ultimo, under the charge of an expectant prefect named Chang and a numerous guard, bound for Chinese Turkestan. It is also written noting that in the beginning of last March a detachment of drill instructors from the Peking Field Force took with them for Kuldja and Tarbagatai, 1,000 magazine rifles, 1,000 field pieces (Krupp), and 50 tons of ammunition. About three weeks ago another detachment of drill instructors from the bodyguard of the Viceroy left Tientsin, taking with them for the troops in Kashgar, 4,000 of the Celestial mountains, 4,000 magazine rifles, twenty-four Krupp breech-loading field pieces, and sixteen mountain guns, and sufficient ammunition to last three or four months' hard fighting. This last consignment will therefore bring the number of magazine rifles for the New Dominion, so far, to 11,000, of field pieces to thirty, and of mountain guns to twenty-eight.

M. ALFRED LE VASSER, editor of the Indépendance Tonkin, has been deprived of his rank of Lieutenant in the French army, on the ground of dishonorable conduct. An article appeared in his paper last September, strongly condemning General Rearte and the military party, then at Lo-gerhe, with Governor de Lausanne and his supporters. M. le Vassier was asked to reveal the name of the writer, but of course refused; he was then asked point-blank whether it was not a certain officer in the army; this the editor denied, but subsequently the original manuscript, in the officer's handwriting, was stolen from the office of the Indépendance, by some person presumably in the employ of the opposite party. The Hanoi Court convicted Cap. Cai Devier of complicity in the robbery.

His lordship—Is the business being carried on now?

Mr. Dempsey—The small debts have been paid; the interim receiver has had a man in possession and all money coming in has been paid over to him. Probably the creditors would be asked to consent to a scheme allowing the debtor to go on in the business until he could pay off some of the liabilities, about 50 per cent. All he asked for to-day was a receiving order, under sec. 6 of Ord. 6 of 1852.

His lordship—The usual receiving order will be made.

Royalist was first favorite with 69 backers in the "pal." Mighty second with 41, and Lightning third with 39 out of a total of 155. To a good start Lightning made play at a fast pace from his stable companion, with Royalist third, and the others outpaced from the start. The favorite passed Mr. Sasoon's mount at the far side of the course and drew close up to the lead, but had shot his bolt long before the straight was reached and again fell back into second place. Mighty challenged Lightning half-way down, but the chestnut easily held his own and won cleverly by a couple of lengths; a bad third. Time, 1 min. 48 sec.
